Saturday, February 27, 2016
10am-3pm at Burnaby Mountain Secondary
8800 Eastlake Drive, Burnaby

Race Matters calls out racism with positive responses.
Youth will participate in an interactive workshop by Ensemble, as well as a “Race Matters from Coast to Coast” workshop sponsored by NCBWF. Videos from the BlackHalifax.com Project will be presented by Kevan Scruffmouth and facilitated in discussion led by Dr. Annette Henry.

Minnijean Brown Trickey is one of the nine African American students who collectively resisted opposition to the desegregation of Little Rock Central High School in 1957, with protection from federal troops.

Dr. Annette Henry is a University of British Columbia professor in the Department of Language & Literacy Education. Her work examines race, class, gender, and culture in the context of learning and teaching experiences for Black students and teachers.

Kevan “Scruffmouth” Cameron is an international spoken word artist, writer and performer in the “edu-tainment” industry. A graduate of Simon Fraser University and former soccer pro, Kevan is co-editor of The Great Black North: Contemporary African Canadian Poetry.
