

April 23, 2018

I would like to take a few moments to acknowledge an important day this week. April 28, 2018 marks the Day of Mourning – a day to remember and honour workers killed or injured in the workplace.

Far too many individuals continue to lose their lives in workplace accidents. We are proud that Burnaby schools continue to share initiatives and support students in learning about young worker education on health and safety.

Staff and students across the district will unite as a symbol of solidarity with workers across Canada. From classroom initiatives to school-wide events, Burnaby Schools respectfully remember those lost in the workplace.

On behalf of the Burnaby Board of Education, please join me in acknowledging a moment of silence in honour and recognition of those injured or killed in the workplace.

Thank you. And thank you for your support of public education in Burnaby Schools.

Board of Education
